CZAR'S PEACE WITH HONOR.

Japan Magnanimously Waives Important Demands to Give the World What it Craves and Strong and Friendly Treaty is Predicted.

Witte Admits His Diplomatic Victory is Greater Than He Could Have Dreamed.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.)

ORTSMOUTH (N. H.) Aug. 29.—The long and bloody war between Japan and Russia is ended. The terms of peace were agreed upon by M. Witte and Baron Komura at the session of the conference, this morning, and this afternoon preliminary arrangements for an armistice were concluded and the actual work of framing the Treaty of Portsmouth was, by mutual agreement, turned over to Mr. de Maartens, Russia's great international lawyer, and Mr. Dennison, who, for twenty-five years, has acted as the legal adviser of the Japanese Foreign Office. The treaty is expected to be completed by the end of the week.

This happy conclusion of the conference, which, a week ago, would have been shipwrecked had it not been for the heroic intercession of President Roosevelt, was sudden and dramatic.

For the sake of peace, Japan, with the magnanimity of a vic tor, at the last moment yielded everything still in the issue.

The Mikado, at the advice of the Cabinet and Elder States men, yesterday had sanctioned the final concession. When Baron Komura yielded, the rest was mere child's play.

THE CONFERENCE BEGINS. [BY THE ASSOCIA TED PRESS-A.M.]

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 29 .- The session of the peace conference this morning began shortly after 10 o'clock. The Russians arrived at the navy yard in their motor car at 9:30 o'clock and the Japanese were there a few minutes after that,

When the peace envoys started for the conference room, there was a recognition on both sides that the decisive hour in the fate of peace negotiations had come. Witte seemed not in a pleased frame of mind.

He had received new instructions during the night reiterating the old. They left him no leeway.

Unless the new Japanese proposal met the Emperor's ultimatum, as given to President Roosevelt through Ambassador Meyer, (no indemnity, but the cession of half of Sakhalin without money payment beyond that for the maintenance of Russian prisoners and that involved in the cession of the Chinese Eastern Railway,) he considered that he had full authority to reject it flatly, without reference to St. Petersburg.

M. Witte considered that the Emperor had figuratively burned his bridges behind him in the replies he had given to the head of the American republic. His superior having thus committed himself, M. Witte felt himself tied, hand and foot.

Unless the Japanese proposal this morning, therefore, came strictly within his instruction he would, according to his views not only be justified in refusing, but be compelled to refuse it. Diplomatically he would, according to the Russian counsei, have that right.

To a proud man like Witte, the position was insufferable. He was playing a "dog's comedy," he said to a friend

But he is a man of passion, a man who acts sometimes upon sudden impulses, and he is quite capable at the critical moment of disregarding the letter of his instructions and laying them at the feet of His Majesty, and thus, in the face of the world, forcing the Emperor to take the responsibility.

But there are motives that might impel him in the other direction. None knows as well as he that the Emperor's advisers are trying to poison His Majesty's mind against him.

None knows as well as he that the military party is demanding a continuation of the war, and that if he disobeys the letter of his instructions, he will be accused of temporizing. He will be charged with being willing to make peace at any Court intrigue, the curse of Russia, is again in play.

Even the members of his entourage could not fathom his intentions when he went to the conference today. One of them said:

When cannot believe that they will absolutely waive indemnity and not it came, it was even more remarkable substitute something in lieu thereof which will involve money payment by Russia. And if they offer a proposition which again arrays indemnity in any amount in a new dress, M. Witte, I am satisfied, will not even consider it.

KOMURA'S STRONG CARD.

an intimation that Baron Komura held a strong card in reserve which would make it almost impossible for M. Witte to reject the second proposal without submitting it to the Emperor.

Should the first proposal be refused, the information of the Associated Press is that Baron Komura would then play his last trump-a wholesale proposal to arbitrate all unadjusted propositions before the conference.

It is hardly conceivable that M. Witte would dare to refuse to place before the author of The Hague tribunal such a proposition. To do so would be for him to court both for himself and his government a universal outburst of denunciation.

The departure of the envoys for the conference, this morning, was earlier than usual, and the hotel guests when they came down to see them off were disappointed to find that they had already

The Japanese, it was noticed, were loaded down with dress suit cases, evidently containing papers and documents, while M. Plancon carried a single "dosier" case.

WONDERFULLY FRIENDLY DOCUMENT.

IBY THE ASSOCIA TED PRESS-P.M.1 PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 29.-In the conference Articles X and XI (interned warships and limitation of Russia's sea power in the Far East) were withdrawn. Japan agreed that only that portion of the Chinese Eastern Railroad south of Chantfu, the position occupied by Oyama, should be ceded to Japan. Both sides, when the deadlock was broken, wanted a "just and lasting" peace, and in that respect it was decided to practically neutralize Sakhalin, each country binding itself not to fortify its half of the island, and Japan assuming an obligation not to fortify La Perouse Strait, between Sakhalin and Hokkaido, which would bar Russia's commercial route to the Pacific.

The plenipotentiaries went further. They decided to add a new clause in the nature of a broad provision for mutual commercial privileges, by which each country will secure for the other the benefit of the "most favored nation" clause and the "open door."

BASIS OF FUTURE ALLIANCE.

The new treaty, therefore, will be a wonderfully friendly document, of a character almost to raise the suspicion that the two countries have not only negotiated peace, but have concluded the basis of a future alliance. There is, however, no evidence, as rumored, that any secret clauses are to be appended to the present treaty.

Before leaving the conference building felicitations were exchanged with the President at Oyster Bay. Both Baron Komura and Witte telegraphed. The former confined himself to apprising that this had been done by order of the President of the conditions upon which peace had been conthe President of the conditions upon which peace had been con-

President Roosevelt replied with words of thanks and congratulation. Then began the jubilation. Witte and Baron de Rosen returned to the hotel for luncheon. The Japanese had remained at the conference hall to lunch with Mr. Peirce. Later in his room, when he had partially recovered himself, he declared that he could not have dreamed of such a victory. That he regards it a diplomatic triumph of the first magnitude he makes no attempt to conceal, and that is the general verdict here tonight. The Russians are overjoyed at the result.

om trading centers indicate that the overment attained its greatest strength hirly in August and since then has been decreasing. Nowhere except in Shanghai has American business received a serious blow.

The boycott would have been equally successful at Tien-Tsin, which is a distributing market for American goods second only to Shanghai, except for the determined repression of Yuan Shikai, who is almost the only Chinese Viceroy really ruling his own province. The Peking government, in response to Minister Rockhill's representations, issued instructions to provincial officials which read well, but which the officials construe with the belief that the government sympathizes with the sentiment for the exclusion of American goods, although obliged formally to oppose the method of its expression. Several minor officials are implicated in the movement at Shanghai, and its leader holds the rank or taotal. The government might punish them by depriving them of honors, according to the Chinese custom, if it were in earnest.

STUDENTS AGITATORS.

STUDENTS AGITATORS.

Many important merchants who embarked in the boycott now repent of the scheme, but it has passed beyond their courtoi into the hands of agitators, the majority of whom are students, many recently returned from Japan and some from America, who relate at meetings and in newspapers lurid stories of outrages received at the hands of American immigration officials. The agitators are active principals in the central and southern cities. They have abandoned the original demand that Chinese students and merchants be admitted to America as freely as those of other nationalities, and now are demanding the unrestricted entry of all Chinese. They argue that if this movement succeeds the same coercion may be employed against Canada. Australia, Java and all countries in which Chinese livs.

The native newspapers, which have become influential only since the Boxer uprising and the number whereof is multiplying, are a powerful factor in fanning the agitation.

The best informed foreigners believe that the boycott has passed its climax and will gradually subside; that the cessation of orders for American goods is merely temporary, and that a decrease of orders now will result in a corresponding increase later in the year.

OPENING MANCHURIA.

The end of the Russo-Japanese War, by opening Manchuria, will give a great impetus to American trade. That country practically has been closed to imports throughout the war, largely because the armies monopolised all means of transportation.

Most American products sold in China are handled by British and German firms on commission and the bulk of the losses falls upon them.

What is considered the greatest significance of the boycott is the possibility of future use of this method of coercion if the first attempt succeeds.

The guilds have launched the movement by forcing a permanent organization and have plenty of funds to send orators about the country and sow circulars broadcast. They boast of receiving many contributions and messages from American sympathisers.

Proportionately as the dirst boycott succeeds the weapon may be expected to be employed against any government that offends the Chinese.

NEVER A GREATER TASK.

The Eagle (Democratic) says: "The end has justified the means, whatever they may have been. The end consigns him to a category almost all, if not absolutely all, his own. Never will it be given to a man to undertake a task of greater magnitude, to traverse a path beset with greater difficuties. There was almost derision at the beginning. There were those who ridiculed. He has triumphed. He has reaped a reward beyond the possibility of calculation. He has sheathed the swords of a million men. For that he will have monuments hereafter."

UNQUESTIONED HONOR.

The American (Democrat) says: "The part played by President Roosevelt in pressing the cause of peace on two nations has been thoroughly characteristic of him, and has been crowned with success. Mr. Roosevelt has once again secured the center of the stage, and this time it is not the national stage, but the stage of all the world. It is not too early to congratulate the President on what he has done to secure for the United States the unquestioned honor of being, for the first time, the scene of a great diplomatic conference. It is not too early to applaud him upon having forgotten the big stick and his manifold eulogies of war in order to bring peace to two warring nations."

His part 9s peacemaker at Portsmouth is the crowning achievement of his brilliant career. It promises to stand recorded as the most notable work of a crowded political life. Every American, whether he is a Democrat or a Republican, has just reason for pride and patriotism in Roosevelt's triumph over tremendous obstacles. WASHINGTON ENTHUSIASTIC. CREDIT GIVEN THE PRESIDENT. DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES!

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Official and financial Wash-ington received the news of the agree-ment of the peace envoys at Portsmouth with enthusiasm, and it met with approval in every walk of life at the national capital. Praises of the President, are being sounded, and he is given personal credit for having brought two warring nations together. is given personal reading halons together. Throughout the departments, on the highways, in the clubs and in public places, the news that the peace agreement had been reached was freely commented upon. Newsboys filled the streets with their cries of "extra," and there was a temporary suspension of business at the national capitol, while the latest bulletins; from Portsmouth were hurriedly read and discussed. The concensus of opinion was that the whole world would eventually be benefited by the peace settlement arrived at today. Opinions differ as to which nation is entitled to the credit of having out-generalled or out-played the other in the diplomatic field, but the question of whether Russia overplayed Japan or whether Japan obtained greater concessions than she anticipated are considered as but of secondary importance compared with the important part played by the President of the United States in bringing to successful termination the conference which, twenty-four hours ago, second which, twenty-four hours ago, ed doomed to destruction.

STATE DEPARTMENT'S VICTORY. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The State Department realized a great victory in having secured beyond any question the "open door" in Manchuria, which was so dear to the heart of the late Secretary Hay. The territorial integrity of China seems also assured, and with the restoration of the vast Manchurian provinces to the control of the present Emperor of China and the Dowager Empress it is felt here that there is, an end, for all time, of insidious foreign aggressions upon Chinese soil.

With Korea under the Japanese pro prate, developing its great natural urces, and all opened to American oltation on even terms with other nations, a large increase in the foreign market open to our products is expected.

For its part, the Navy Department will be relieved of the tedious and expensive patrol which it has been maintaining in the Philippines ever since the beginning of hostilities to guard against the violation of neutrality by belligerents. Also, it will be relieved of the necessity of guarding the Russian Interned ships. These ships may now, it is supposed, depart for their home ports, although some repairs may be necessary before they may be regarded as seaworthy.

Secretary Bonaparte expressed great satisfaction at the news that peace was said to be assured.

WAR DEPARTMENT.

WAR DEPARTMENT.

WAR DEPARTMENT.

Gen. Bates, acting Socretary of War, said he was delighted to learn of the agreement at Portsmouth, especially as he had begun to fear an unfavorable outcome of the negotiations.

Acting Secretary of State Loomis said tonight: "A great service has been rendered all mankind by the President. The President has personally done more to bring about this much-desired peaceful settlement of the war in the Far East than the world knows or perhaps will ever know. His achievement is as splendid as it is unique."

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.]
SEATTLE, Aug. 29—The steamshi BEATTLE, Aug. 23—The steamship Centennial reached por: last night after a voyage to the mouth of Amur River, for which place she sailed from San Francisco, June 12. The officers say the fog and their captain's nerve saved them from capture by Japanese. Under command of Capt. Strand, the Centennial sailed from San Francisco with a cargo, the principal part of which was sait, although she carried some flour. It was understood by the ship's officers that she was under charter to a man named Louri, who claimed that he was taking the cargo to a cannery, which he owned at Nikolaievsk, which is some distance from the mouth of the Amur. The Centennial dropped anchor fifty miles off Nikolaievsk. Here she was obliged to wait nineteen days before she could discharge her cargo and get away. Although the cargo of the Centennial was said to have been shipped by a private party, the fact that work of discharging was done by Russian soldiers caused the officers and crew to have suspicions as to whether or not it was for private use.

IT WAS TO LAUGH. The same speaker said one reason advanced by the Americans for not granting independence was the lack of a common language, the native speaking many dislects. He compared the Filipinos and their multitude of tribal tongues with the three languages spoken in Great Britain—English, Irish and Scotch, saying that that nation had no difficulties in the matter of self-government. This statement brought forth an uproarlous outburst of laughter from the Congressmen present.

All of the speakers were subjected to volleys of questions by Senators Newlands and Warren and Congressmen Hepburn, Grosvenor and Cooper, all finally admitting that they had not given the subject sufficient study to determine just how to handle the question of independence, if it were given to the islands.

COOPER'S WARNING.
Congressman Cooper of Wisconsin, during the course of an interview, said:
"It is quite apparent to anyone who has looked into the matter, even superficially, that self-government for the Flipinos, at the present, is out of the question. Within a very few months after independence was granted them, there would be a factional fight going on similar to the Aguinaldo-Luna feud, which would give some of the powers an opportunity to intervene and divide up the islands. The most 5mportant development of the yellow fever situation today was the report of Dr. C. Milo Brady, who had been sent by the State Board of Health on a tour of inspection of the bayous and lakes in Jefferson Parish, where there are many settlements of fishermen in constant communication with New Orleans.

Dr. Brady made the trip with Dr. Shanley of North Dakota. Without completing their investigations, they turned up thirty-five cases of yellow fever, mostly along Bayou Barataria, learned that deaths had occurred and found much suffering.

After Dr. Brady had made his report the State board decided to organize immediately a relief party consisting of a physician and two nurses. A large supply of medicines and provisions also will be forwarded.

The local situation continues most hopeful.

PEACE ON EARTH AND GOOD-WILL TO MEN.

(BY THE ASSOCIA TED PRESS-A.M.) what Berlin thinks of the result of the Portsmouth conference.

The Foreign Office, where the Associated Press brought the first announcement and the summary of the conditions agreed upon thirty minutes before they were known elsewhere in Germany, says unreservedly that, without the President's personal exertions, supported by his unique position and the power of the United States, peace would not have been attained, and that Germany and the whole world will benefit by the statesmanship shown by the Washington government. The Foreign Office acknowledges the generosity and moderation of Japan and the steadfast spirit of the Russian government. Astonishment at the result was felt by the Foreign Office, as it was everywhere else where the Associated Press made inquiries. Certainly, it was the first exclamation of one of Russia's principal bankers, who was expecting a different outcome. That Russia would not have to pay an indemnity was at first scarcely believable.

I heartly resolve to hear that he has been successful."

SIR ERIC ASTONISHED.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—Baron Hayasha, a Japanese Minister, also received as first information from the Associated Press. The Minister was at his suntry home when seen by the Associated Press correspondent. He said: "I of my first intimation of the result the conference from the Associated ress telegram sent to me here, but I ust decine to comment thereon until receive as official announcement from the Associated a long dispatch was received at the apanese legation later in the evening of was forwarded to Baron Hayashi. Then as he started up the stairs, the newspaper correspondents clamored for information. "What have you done? How is it settled?" "We pay not a kopeck of indemnity," he replied, as he turned at the landing, half way up the stairs. "We get half of Saknaiin. That is the agreement in a nutshel." The two envoys have respectively proposed to their Emperors the conclusion of an immediate armistice. The details of the armistice will be discussed at this afternoon's meeting.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.]. "I know nothing of the details of agreement of the peace envoys at Portsmouth;" Prince Engalitcheff, representative of the Russian government, said tonight. "I know nothing further than is contained in the bulletins of the press. I have received messages over our private wires confirmatory of these, but nothing relating to the lines along which the agreement was reached. If it shall prove true that an indemnity is to be paid by Russia, as one rumor has it, I shall feel sorry. But that there is to be peace cannot be regretted by even the most partisan lover of his country.

"However, the peace envoys now at Portsmouth will be in Chicago during the latter part of the week. Doubtless they will be pleased to give all that can be given upon the subject. I expect that they will be in Chicago long enough to see the city, but I do not know just how long they will remain."

FRANCE BELIEVED IN "TEDDY."
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—PM.]
PARIS, Aug. 23.—The unwavering conviction of France that President Rooseveit's noble initiative would cuiminate in peace has received its reward. The news of the successful termination of the conference at Portsmouth, which was first made known through the Associated Press bulletin, produced a profound impression when it was communicated to the members of the diplomatic corps and the high officials of the government, who unanimously expressed the keenest satisfaction that the heavy strain and anxiety had been removed, and President indemnity was at first scarcely believable.

The Berlin Stock Exchange had been preparing for news of a rupture of the preparing for news of a rupture of the negotiations and for consequent disorder in the market. There was animation at the Russian embassy until late tonight. The Ambassador, Count Osten-Sacken, had gone out of town with the Countess, who for a long time has been seriously ill, but the staff of the embassy received callers, and their congratulations on what from a diplomatic point of view seemed a remarkable Russian success, yet Japan was regarded as having won all she sought for, even in imagination, before the war began; as having gained opportunities for the tranquil development of the extensive territory on the mainland, and as having won a position in respect to the western great powers that will make them extremely civil to her hereafter.

bety had been removed, and President processes and presidence was generally considered to have been the main mecor in bringing about the main mecor in bringing about the main mecor in bringing about the mappy results.

Americal. Russian and French officials displayed jubilation, while Japanese diplomats maintained their usual imperturbability, regarding the event as a thing that had been expected. All, however, rejoiced that the disastrons war had been brought to a close with undoubted benefit not only to Russia and Japan, but to the whole world. Considerable surprise was shown among French diplomats that the Japanese had surrendered so completely relative to the question of the indemnity, on which they hitherto had held so arm. Their action in thus making such an enormous sacrifice evoked much commendation. It was known that both beiligerents desired peace, but that in order to preserve their national self-respect they did not wish to exhibit signs of wavering. There was, therefore, intense surprise when it was announced that the Japanese had given up their fundamental claims. Count Cassini, former Russia Ambassador at Washington, who arrived from St. Petersburg last night, expressed his pleasure on receipt of the information, but declined to grant an interview. WITTE'S STORY TOLD TO AMERICAN PRESS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.]

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 29.—Witte, accompanied by Baron Rosen, came to the notel for luncheon. There was a wonderful demonstration upon their arrival. A great crowd had collected under the porte cochere of the annex, where the Russians are quartered, and when their automobile drew up, the air was torn with frantic cheers. Hats were thrown aloft. Witte, as he stepped out of the motor car, "Mr. Vanderlip," he said, "came to as he stepped out of the motor car, seemed quite overcome. If I make peace, I told him from everywhere in America, in France and in Germany would come a flood of offers of money. BONAPARTE DISSATISFIED.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.-Secretary Bonaparte has just completed a thor-ough review of the record of the pro-ceedings of the court of inquiry in the case of the disastrous boller explosion on the U.S. S. Bennington at San Diego, July 21, last, and will an-nounce his action in a day or two. It is understood that he does not agree with the court in several of its con-clusions in the matter of the indi-vidual responsibility of various officers and men of the vessel for the condi-tions which resulted in the explosion. In accordance with the recommenda-tion of the court, Secretary Bonaparte has decided to convene a courtmartial in San Francisco for the trial of En-sign Charles T. DRAMATIC SUDDENNESS. KOROSTOVETE'S BULLETIN.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 29.-Pence in the Far East has come with the same mar began. Scarcely more startling was the news of Togo's midnight at tack upon the Russian fleet at Por Arthur than the brief bulletin telephoned to the hotel from the navy vard at 12:30 o'clock today, saying that the plenipotentiaries had reached an ent and were proceeding to the laboration of a treaty.

In the expectation that a bulletin would be sent after the morning ses-sion, the correspondents assembled about the telephone station soon after noon. Anxiously they waited in the fear that the news which came would tell of a break in the negotiations. Just at 12:30 o'clock the telephone rang, and there was a cush from all sides of the lobby. It was Korostovetz at the navy yard with the official bul-

There was a sudden break, then a cheer, and in a moment the whole lobby was the scene of the wildest enthusiasm. It was with the greatest difficulty that the rest of the bulletin "and it has been decided to proceed to elaboration of the treaty," was heard. No one was left except the man at the telephone to take it. There was a rush for the telegraph office near by to flash the good tidings around the world. From all the verandas and corridors the crowd ourged into the hotel to hear the news The other two events of the day were the arrival at the hotel of the respective missions. SAN DIEGO, Aug. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In an effort to save a child from drowning, Ralph Wythebourne, a teacher at the Point Loma school, gave up his life this afternoon. He and other teachers had taken a party of children to the ocean near the Point Loma homestead to bathe. One of the children got beyond his depth and was struggling in the water when Wythebourne went to the child's assistance. He succeeded in bringing the little one within reach of another teacher, who drew the child to a place of safety, but before Wythebourne could reach the shore the treacherous currents carried him into deep water, and he was drowned. The body was recovered.

TEN ACRES OF MELONS AT MONTEBELLO

Montebello is one of the greatest melon producing sections of Southern California. The luscious cantaloupe and water melons thrive to perfection here because of the ideal soil, water and climatic conditions which exist.

Montebello means all the delights and comforts of rural life, and is only 15 minutes from Los Angeles. Montebello possesses the most bountiful water supply of any agricultural section in the southwest. A local water authority has pronounced the supply to be "as permanent as the very hills themselves."

If you are going to live in the glorious "Sunshine Land," why confine yourself to a crowded, insignificant little city lot forty minutes from the insignificant little city lot forty minutes from the business center, when for less money you can purchase several broad income producing acres at beautiful Montebello and only FIFTEEN MINUTES ride from the city? Is this not a proposition worth your immediate investigation? Why not own a SELF-SUSTAINING home? If you can don't care to work the land yourself, you can don't care to work the land yourself, you can pay for its development and still make a big Montebello is only four miles east of the city on the Salt Lake R. R. The man of small capi-tal may locate here and with a little concentrated effort become independent.

Five water shares are deeded with each 5-acre lot, the owner becoming a part owner of the water system.

Dudley White, the well known orange grower, says: "I believe that no other section of Canfornia can equal Montebello. The soil and water Dispatches received in Los Angeles, paterday, announced his demise at an early hour of the morning at Yreka, sisktyou county, where he had gone on pleasure trip.

Mr. Rindge's death occurred at 6:45 o'clock a m. In company with Thomas Miller, a mining expert, he had gone to Yreka last Friday, on his way to inspect several mining properties in Biskiyou county.

Many were the expressions of regret on the streets and in business offices, yesterday, when the news of the death of Mr. Rindge was made known.

The interests of Mr. Rindge were far-reaching and involved numerous enterprises of importance in the commercial world, affairs of educational and religious moment, and many private charities of which even his close friends were scarcely aware. He regarded his great wealth as a charge to be administered for the best interests of his fellow-men, and he was always ready to aid worthy enterprises. While many in Los Angeles and Southern California have special reason to remember his generosities, they had a much wider sweep than this little section, and even in far-off Massachusetts they point with admiration to the noble buildings and helpful institutions erected by Mr. Rindge in memory of his father.

much wider sweep than this little section, and even in far-off Massachusetts they point with admiration to the noble buildings and helpful institutions erected by Mr. Rindge in memory of his father.

Mr. Rindge was a native of Cambridge, Mass., and his father was Samuel Baker Rindge, a prominent woolen importer and manufacturer of that city. He was born in 1857, and his early boyhood, was spent in that city. There he attended the city schools and was prepared for coilege.

He entered Harvard, and graduated in the same class with President Roosevelt and other distinguished men. He also received a degree from this institution a few years later.

Soon after his graduation, Mr. Rindge succeeded to the large estate left by his father, interests amounting to probably $11,000,000, and his splendid business ability was used in the furtherrance of these interests, until they became very important in the commercial life of Massachusetts.

Always realizing his duties as a citizen and that justice of the demands of the community in which his wealth was located. Mr. Rindge, took delight in giving to Cambridge several substantial monuments of his generosity.

There he erected an imposing city hall, and presented it to Cambridge, then built a handsome pubic library and also presented it to Cambridge, then bridge. This was the first manual training school in the State of Massachusetts.

clous investments in its business districts, and his estate today will show many valuable holdings which have more than doubled in worth since their purchase. The Rindge Block, at the northeast corner of Third and Broadway, was erected by him, and it was through his aid that the handsome Conservative Life Building at Third and Hill streets, was built.

In the central portions of the State, Mr. Rindge also conducted several large affairs, and these included both artidlands and those susceptible to cultivation. As president of the Middle River Canal and Navigation Company, he was instrumental in starting an enterprise which plans the reclamation of thousands of acres of peat and tule lands near Stockton. Already over 25,000 acres have been reclaimed through the operations of this company.

Two years ago one of the handsomest homes in Los Angeles was finished for Mr. Rindge at Twenty-fourth street and Harvard boulevard, and he at once occupied it with his family.

While he considered Los Angeles his home, his was a nature so broad and so sympathetic that he was interested hersonally in the advancement, mate-

My stock of more than $40,000 comprises shoes of the highest grade for men, women and children and, as I am offering them at only a fraction of former prices, I know that nowhere else can such qualities be obtained at such low cost. Dramatic Scene Enacted in Court at Euroka During Trial of Jesse Dermody, Alleged Slayer of His Half-brother—Dangerous Crook in Captured in San Francisco.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.]
EUREKA. Aug. 23.—Following the hysterical declaration that she wouls mot swear away the life of her only remaining son, Mrs. Heffley, mother of Jesse Lermody, alleged slayer of his half-brother, Frank Heffley, raised her hands in supplication and offered a fervent prayer that the life of the accused boy might be saved. The dramatic scene was enacted in the Superior Court today during the progress of the Dermody murder trial, and silence reigned while the aged Indian woman made her prayer.

SPACE TELEGRAPHY'S DEBUT. CHICAGO, Aug. 29.-[Exc childago, Aug. 22.—Excusive Dispatch.] Space telegraphy is about to make its bow to the Chicago public in a series of tests before practical telegraphers and electricians. A Chicago man, G. F. Piggott, a practical electrician, is the inventor of the new system, which, he believes, will revolutionize present systems, including the wireless. Piggott claims it is a combination of all the rood in other systems, and new features make it surpass all. The following are the points he relies on: It is a combination of the best points of other systems; it wastes only 'h per cent. of energy in transmission: it can send messages to any special point without their going to all points on the line; no poles are required at receiving stations; electrical storms will not disturb it.

WANT KAISER TO BUST TRUST.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The price of meat in Germany is rising—has risen, in fact—almost to famine rates, says Berlin dispatch to the Heraid. The correspondent declares that the advance is due to regulations closing the frontiers against Russian meat and American tinned meats. The butchers in all the provinces, after ineffectual appeals to the Minister of Agriculture, resolved yesterday, co-jointly with the municipal authorities, to appeal to the Emperor, requesting his intervention on behalf of the lower classes. In the arrest of Mrs. Clara Portun of No. 14 Olivera street, the police believe they have captured a woman who has been responsible for luring more young girls to destruction than any other woman in Los Angeles. Since Sunday last Julia Wood and Grace Sixter, two girls under 16 years of age, nave been in the City Jail. They were taken from the Portun woman's dive and have been detained in the matron's ward while Capt. Auble's men have been looking up Portun's record. The police say it is one of the blackest they have ever unearthed. Mrs. Portun will be arraighed in Police Court this morning and the two girls will restify against her.

Opinion is Prevalent That the Girl is "Man Crazy," and That She Wrote Letters to Herself, and Then Claimed That They Had Come from Lovers.

Whether May Godfrey, the silly girl who raised such a furore over the alleged attentions of Dwight Hart, one of the proprietors of the Natick House, and who was detained for several days in the Insane ward of the County Hospital, was attempting a blackmail, or she is simply, "daffy" on the subject of men, will probably never be known definitely.

DAY'S THREE TROLLEY ACCIDENTS, ONE KILLED, TWENTY-FOUR HURT.

THREE street car accidents, two of them serious, made the startling railroad history of Los Angeles yesterday. One man, W. B. Irwin, was killed, and twenty-four other people were injured, some of them critically. The Los Angeles-Pacific Railroad was hit twice, and in each instance a car was turned over. In the morning a Colegrove car was upset at Bellevue avenue and San Fernando street and in the evening at Burlington avenue and Sixteenth, a Santa Monica coach turned turtle. A twisted track caused the derailment of a Pacific Electric car at Garvanza, it coming within a few inches of going over a precipice.

Running at full speed with the conductor at the controller, while the motorman was inside the car fixing the headlight, car No. 222 of the Los Angeles-Pacific Railway, struck a switch at the intersection of Sixteenth street and Burlington avenue (formerly Bush street,) at 10 o'clock last night, partially rounded the curve and then turned over, crashing into and demoishing three telephone poles and wrecking the car. Eight persons were injured. Whatley and Kohl were taken to the Receiving Hospital, Mrs. Noland was taken to the residence of Mrs. A. H. Eight persons were injured, none fatally, although the escape from death of all those aboard was little short of miraculous. The injured are:

L. H. WHATLEY, conductor, resione foot torn off and nearly all the clothing stripped from his body.

that the city is now endeavoring to secure.

City Attorney Mathews yesterday punctured this scheme by calling attention to the fact that the election is called under a State statute and not under a charter provision; also that it contains the "emergency clause" and has already gone into effect.

Under the provisions of the charter the referendum can only be applied to those ordinances, which do not go into effect before thirty days from the date of adoption by the Council.

But the emergency clause was applied to the bond election ordinance. This means that the ordinance has already been in effect for several days and that Spook Howton and the Examiner are simply stultifying themselves by shooting at dead fish.

The action on the part of Howton and the Examiner illustrates very clearly the kind of campaign which these Siamese twins are waging against the future prosperity of the city. Asked what they have to offer in place of the Owens River proposal, they respond with a tirade of abuse against the Mayor, the Council, the water board and the commercial organizations. This is because the Examiner did not display enterprise mough to get the news of the proposed purchase of the Owens River enough to get the news of the pro-posed purchase of the Owens River until after the other papers had told-all about the magnificent project. CROWDED SCHOOLS.

Contractor Engstrum has been warn-by the Board of Education that e Polytechnic High School will be cupled as soon as the fall term of hool opens, whether the building 's tractor is now more than two months behind time on the school building, and that present indications are that he is losing time, rather than making it up. A number of rooms of the new building are already completed; but there are a few that will probably be delayed until after the close of the coming school year. Superintendent Foshay has informed the board that it absolutely necessary to find some place for the polytechnic pupils, when the fall term opens. He says that our population has increased by such leaps and bounds that the schools have falled to keep pace with the city's growth, population has increased by such leaps and bounds that the schools have falled to keep pace with the city's growth, especially in the south and west. Superintendent Foshay says that the polytechnic building, there is no other place for them to go.

This is not entirely satisfactory to the contractors who had hoped that the entire building might be completed ready for official insection and acceptance before it is occupied. Realising the crowded conditions of the public schools in general, they have agreed, however, to turn the building over for acceptance on the installment plan.

Councilmen are bather gratified than otherwise that the Board of Education has been unable to market the bonds of the Los Angeles school district. These securities were voted as a school district rather than a municipality for the reason that the Council only is empowered to expend municipal bond money. If the election was called by the Council, the Council would contract for the school buildings; if called by the Supervisors, then the school board handles the funds.

FREMONT DID IT.

City Librarian Lummis has compiled the following data concerning "Owens River, the correct spelling of the name and its history:" Since Owens River has become and is likely to continue a household word with this community, it may be well to settle, at the start, the correct spell-ing of the name and its history—about neither of which does there seem to be much known. It is spelt Owen's in Hittell's "History of California," in Bancroft's ditto-also in his "Native Races," vols. I to IV—and in the Cen-tury and Standard dictionaries. It is real! Owens in the government publitury and Standard dictionaries. It is spelt Owens in the government publi-cation "The Origin of Certain Place Names in the United States" (second edition, 1905) by Henry Gannett; in the index of Bancroft's "Native Races," in the New International Encyclopedia and in Dr. Coues's "Garces." But in none of them has it any explanation. The river, lake, valley and Indian tribe all get their share of this variation of spelling.

all get their share of this variation of spelling.

The lake is sponsor to the others. In February, 1848, John-C. Fremont, the Pathfinder, named it for one of his guides. See his "Memoirs." p. 455, "to one of the lakes along their route on the east side of the range, I gave Owens' name." This was Richard Owens, Kit Carson's friend and partner, who had taken up with him a stock ranch on the Cimarron, a tributary of the Arkansas River, in Colorado. Starting on this, his third expetition, Fremont sent a messenger to Kit Carson to join him, and the most famous secout of his day not only came himself, but brought with him a man whom Fremoni gearned to value almost as much. It is a high tribute that the Pathfinder pays to Owens (see "Memoirs," p. 657.) "That Owens was a good man it is enough to say that he and Carson were friends. Cool, brave and of good judgment. A good huntrand a good shot; experienced in mountain life, he was an acquisition and proved valuable throughout the campaign."

city and county were named after the river.

Walker's lake and river (Nevada) and Walker's Pass in California were similarly named for Joseph Reddeford Walker, one of Fremont's men on the second and third exceditions ("Memoirs," pp. 435 and 455.)

After Kit Carson we have Carson City, Nev., and a pass, lake, river and valley, in the same State, as well as a peak in Utah, to sav nothing of a town and county in Colorado, Kit Carson.

Only poor Godev seems to have been lost in this seographic deal.

Fremont himself, however, has had little gratifude from the nation or this State. A small town. Fremontville, is the only place named in California to his honor—while counties in Colorado, Idaho and Iowa; a noble peak in Wyoming; and many towns all the waynown of the colorado of the colorado.

Irenio Horranda, a well-to-do Mexican, was crushed to death yesterday under the wheels of the steam streetcar line in Douglas. wind and Lightning.

Phoenix has been visited by several severe storms in the past few days, with much more of wind and lightning than of rain. Several houses were struck by lightning, but little damage was done save the demolition of chimnaya. The street-car system was put out of business from Saturday evening till-Sunday afternoon and the firealarm telegraph system was useless for about the same period. Of 1000 telephones on the Phoenix circuits, fully 600 were put out of use by the lightning. Trees were blown down and awnings ripped away. The steel frame of a large awning of the Wakeling Grocery Company was crushed down by the force of the wind and blown through $500 worth of plate-glass windows. The dampness brought back the summer's plague of crickets and grasshoppers, swarming, around the electric lights of nights. In the hope of lessening the attraction for the crickets, the City Council has shut off the street lighting for awhile, with apparent benefit.

Three lions have been killed lately by herders for James Gant, but many are left. George Spooner, a South Side ranchman, claims the Arizona championship as a killer of wild cats and lynx. In twenty-five years of residence near Tempe he is said to have slain seventy-nine of the wild cat tribe.

CRACK COLT WATERLIGHT.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—[Exclusve Dispatch.] "Diamond Jim" Brady's crack California colt Waterlight, son of Water Cress and bred at Rancho Del Paso, showed his heels to a good field of three-year-olds in the Dolphin Stakes at Sheepshead Bay, this afternoon.

Materlight picked up 118 pounds, and, making all the running, won, rulled up at the end, by four lengths from Coy Maid, who was half a length in front of Rose of Dawn. The track was very heavy, and Waterlight's time, 1:55 for the mile and a furlong, was a splendid performance. He clearly demonstrated that he was not himself when beaten off in his last start.

BUSINESS

Peace news was received with extreme satisfaction by the New York banking interests, and on 'Change the announcement of the end of the war was hailed with an upward movement. Subsequently duliness ensued. The bond market advanced in sympathy with the rise in Japanese bonds. At Chicago, the announcement of a peace settlement had some effect on late trading. The close, however, was weak at 78%@79.

PEACE AT LAST.

This morning's dispatches bring the joyful news that terms of peace have been agreed upon between Japan and Russia. The dreadful war is over. The slaughter is at an end. The fields that have been drenched in the blood of brave men will burgeon and bloom with the rich harvests of peace. The men who have struggled and striven in the throes of mortal combat will reloved ones who await their coming. and to the pursuits of peace, which are so much better than the pursuits of

The conclusion of peace on the terms accepted by Japan is a distinct, un-deniable diplomatic victory for Russia. This victory is due in chief part to the skillful diplomacy of M. Witte. It was accomplished in the face of apparently nsurmountable obstacles. Although important battle of the war. Russian iplomacy has virtually dictated the terms of peace, Japan finally acquies-

The liberal and unexpected concessions which Japan is reported to have made, however, will appear in a rathe different light if it shall be shown (as vaguely reported) that China has agreed to pay her "the cost of the war" in consideration of the preservation to Caina of Manchuria; or that there is a "secret understanding' (also vaguely hinted at) between Witte and Komura, by which Japan gets more than appears on the face of the agree-

Both of these reports seem improb able. As to Manchuria, its integrity as Chinese territory was practically assured in the early stages of the war, through the guaranty exacted by Sec-retary Hay from both belligerents and acquiesced in by the European powers, that the "administrative entity" of China should be preserved. To the United States more than to Japan is due the fuil retention of Manchura by China, and it is hardly conceivable that the latter would agree to pay money to Japan for what was guar anteed by the powers at the beginning of the war. As to a "secret understanding" between Witte and Komura, such a thing is altogether improbable, in view of the fact that the negotiations, in their later stages, have been rather between the envoys at Portsmouth, who have acted more in the capacity of ministerial agents or representatives of Obviously, Mr. Eaton simply reserved their respective governments than as the cattle and the grazing land, and

TELLOW KNOCKER STILL KNOCKING.

Former Mayor Fred Eaton con-ceived the idea of bringing water from Owens Valley to Los Angeles, and conducted the preliminary real estate negotiations necessary to acquirement of rights to take the water. He invested his own capital in options on riparian rights along Owens River, and he bought the Rickey ranch in Long Valley, covering the site of a reservoir designed to store the surplus water and regulate the flow of stream. Mr. Eaton has stated that his personal investment of cash in the Rickey property was $48,000, and no-body doubts his statement.

Having acquired the right to obtain title to the ranch, on payment of the whole purchase price, Mr. Eaton entered into a contract with the Board of Water Commissioners to sell the property to the city. When Mr. Eaton bought the ranch, he was obliged to buy the cattle also. The stock then on the ranch consisted of about 4200 head of cows and calves, worth from $10 to $12 a head on the average. The land included some mountain pasture, valuable only for grazing and of no use to the city. In making the deal with the Water Board, Mr. Eaton offered to sell all the land needed by the city and all the water rights for a sum equal to the entire purchase price of the Rickey property. That left him the cattle and the mountain pasture as profit on the transaction. It was a plain, legitimate business bargain, thoroughly understood by both parties Having bought the property, Mr. Eaton had a right to ask any price he pleased, and the city was free to accept or reject the offer. The Water Board considered the bargain a good one for the city, and agreed to pay the Note how this plain, simple business transaction is distorted, misrepresented and lied about by Hearst's Impossible Dolt. In its editorial assault upon the Owens River project, published last Monday morning, the Examiner said:

"Ex-Mayor Eaton did not buy and pay for the Rickey ranch, as was first asserted. It was in consideration of such purchase that cattle valued at $150,000 or more were to be given to him and also lands which the cry did not need. Now, it seems, Mr. Eaton merely used the city's money to acquire an option. He made no investment of his own and yet is to receive, besides the $10 per day which he was, paid, property amounting in all to perhaps a quarter of a million dollars or more."

The agreement entered into by the Water Board with Mr. Eaton for the sale of property to the city describes in detail certain parcels of land and all water rights pertaining thereto, but contains no mention of cattle or the mountain pastures, which the Examiner says the city has bought and agreed to "give" to Mr. Eaton. nvoys vested with plenary powers.

The Examiner knows the truth, having copies of contracts and records in its possession, but goes on lying about the project and does not withdraw any of its dangerous editorial aspersions upon the conduct and character of the man who has made a solution of the water problem possible. What is the inspiring cause of the Examiner's venomous hostility to the interests of the people of Los Angeles? What is the Yellow Atrocity trying to achieve by its persistent, idiotic mendacity? Disgruntiement over so small a matter as a news "scoop" seems a pitifully petty explanation of its course, but there is ground for the belief that that is just about the mental gauge of the Impossible Dolt, taken by Hearst from the Park Row discard and sized up by him as good enough for manager of a sheet subsidized by the boycott gang to stir up trouble in Los Angeles.

The sum of $50,000 was raid by the Western respiratory of President Roses. yellow fever, mosquitoes or no mosqui-toes, and we should have been spared

An enterprising newspaper publishes a great expose of extraordinary corruption in the municipal government. Once more the people are roused to a great pitch of indignation. Even the staid business man, who usually has no time or inclination to dabble in the "filthy pool of politics," steals a few hours of his precious time to aid in discussing means for reform.

J. J. Hawkins of Prescott, Ariz., who was present as a delegate at the recent convention of the American Bar Association in Boston, had a paper on law practics in the Territories. It is the belief in political circles in Arisona that Capt. J. L. B. Alexander the subject of the Territory in place of Frederick S. Nave, the incumbent, who, rumor has it, will be promoted to a judgeship.

Henry Schneider of Alameda has invented a method of propelling steam cunches from which great things are expected. Instead of the ordinary crew propeller the craft is propelled by a double row of fins arranged each side of the keel. to aid in discussing means for reform. At the next election the primaries are attended by a great number of people who never before were present at such a gathering. A reform administration is elected by an overwhelming majority, and then, after a couple of years, the "old guard"—the boodlers spending a couple of years in retirement, enjoying themselves on their illigotten gains, come back again, in time to take advantage of the inevitable relapse, and at the following election they are all back once more at the old stand. Either they or people of the same stripe, just as a saloon the license of which has been forfeited, will often be reopened by a cousin or a bar keeper of the former propristor. Surely, in view of these facts, we Americans have no particular right to poke fun at the Chinese who, it is said, required 2000 years to find out that they could get roast pork without ment, enjoying themselves on their ill-gotten gains, come back again, in time said, required 2000 years to find out that they could get roast pork without "The wireless apparatus on shipboard does not transmit nearly so far as is generally supposed. Two or three hundred miles? No: I should say less than that. So it was necessary to send this message from ship to ship as we and they were moving on the ocean.

"Before starting the message the number and probable position of these ships was ascertained. There were four steamers properly equipped with wireless apparatus bound westward on which we could count. I estimated that with good luck we could get the entire message through by Sunday, in time for Monday's Telegraph.

The Central Police Station is the biggest booze shop in all Los Angeles.

So great has become the stock of liquors that the vault behind the desk sergeant's place is filled almost to overflowing; every room in the basement is stacked high with barrels, kegs and cases of wet goods; and additional rooms for the storage of quantities of liquors are planned by Capt. Auble. Red Cloud property, three miles est of Good Springs, is down 225 do has a ledge of gold running the ton. A gasoline hoist and plant are under construction. The liquors are the result of an accumulation of nearly three years. During that time something like 100 "blind pigs" have been raided and the booze resulting therefrom has been carefully packed away. T HAS STOOD TEST OF YEARS.

ARTS IS A PIONEER.

ing Twenty-two Years Ago—Is in Touch With the Latest and Best Methods—Competent Corps of In-

Music and Arts, established here twen-ty-two years ago by Mrs. Emily J. Valentine, is one of the pioneer in-stitutions of its kind in Southern Calfornia and stands for the broadest and

Mrs. Valentine comes from a long line of musical ancestors. She is a sister of William R. Chapman, who for years has been the representative leader of musical clubs in New York. He was associated in work with the late and deeply lamented Anton Seidl and is conductor of the famous Rubinstein Club. For years he has had charge of the Maine Music Festivals, which is an annual event in the great choral work of the East. Mrs. Valentine has a wide acquaintance among the leading musicians of New York, and is therefore enabled to keep in touch with all the latest and best musical methods of the metropolis. Last April, at her earnest solicitation, A. K. Virgil, the inventor of the clavier which has worked such a revolution in the study of plano pupils by its silent system of practice, came out here-and gave a series of lecture recitals, illustrating the use of the instrument, and formed several classes. There are half a dozen claviers in Mrs. Valentine's conservatory for the use of the students.

Mrs. Adeltha Valentine Carter, besides being one of the head teachers for plano, has charge of the juvenile work of the institution, and the children's concerts, in which forty or more children take part, are a feature of the public recitals given at the conservatory, and are an object lesson of the excellent work done in this department where the Burrows method is taught.

Mrs. Valentine's son, Earl Bishor Valentine, who is so well known in musical circles here and who is leader of the orchestra of the First Methodist Church, has charge of the stringand orchestral department.

Another valuable feature of the conservatory is the pipe-organ department, where students are taught to play with a good pedal organ for practice purposes. Thei organists of some of the leading city churches received their first instruction from Mrs. Valentinet who directs this department The contestant having the highest score at the close of the contest will have first choice of the following scholarships. The second highest will play with a good pedal organ for practice purposes. The organists of some of the leading city churches received their first instruction from Mrs. Valentine, who directs this department herself. The school of oratory and physical culture under the direction of Miss Bertha E. Hancock has already received extended notice in these columns as one scholarship is offered in that department and another in the musical department.

Every Saturday is a class day at the conservatory and then pupils are given an opportunity of playing in public, thereby acquiring that poise and self-possession which is so necessary to the successful musician. A year in theory is given free to every student and there are monthly and semi-menthly examinations, ear, pupil being required to stand fairly on his merits as no careless or indifferent work is permitted in the conservatory dents are now illustrators, designers and artists, each doing practical work in his own line. Some are studying advanced work in Europe and several are in this city earning their livelihood as a result of their training; and at the same time keeping in touch with the advanced work in the life classes of the institution.

In no art school west of Chicago can such thorough training in perspective and anatomy be obtained and there are not more than two Schools in the United States that can compete with the Los Angeles-art school in this respect. A certificate from this institution carries a student through the thost rigorous examinations in the art schools of the Eest or in Europe. In the study of anatomy, a doctor takes the first hour of the class, lecturing on the human body with the figure, a skeleton and diagrams to illustrate his lecture. He is followed by the artist instructor, who takes up the subject for a two-hour drawing from the human figure, thus giving the student the benefit of both the theoretical and artistic expert in anatomy. The frequent criticisms and individual instruction afforded pupils in a school of the size of this one, cannot be had in the big art schools of the East, where classes number hundreds and make private instruction quite impossible. Hence, for preliminary training, this institution cannot be surpassed either on this continent or in Europe. This school arfords ample instruction from the rudimentary to the highest branches.

Tracing the progress of the school we find it opened eighteen years ago with two pupils; it has been crowded out of several former quarters by its continuous and rapid growth until it became necessary to build a permanent home of generous dimensions; and there is not a more delightfully located school in the city than this one, facing beautiful Westlake Park, passed by several lines of cars and housed in the handsome structure, thoroughly artistic in design both inside and out. The studios are large and airy and equipped with every comifort and convenience.

The school branches at Pomona College last year had seventy students; Pasadena enrolled about twelve. These is also a branch at the Y.M.C.A. head-quarters. L. E. Garden-Macleod is the principal, and founder, whose experience and reputation in several European art centers combining to produce a curriculum embracing all that is best in the British, German and French methods, having studied with the best instructors in England, Munich and at Paris.

Manufacturers who have not yet brought themselves to the point of accepting advertising as the quickest method of distributing and standardizing their goods, are looking with secret envy at the success of other manufacturers who have been quick to accept this short cut to a larger business.

No question exists today in the mind of any manufacturer is to whether or not his goods can be advertised.

Every single issue of THE D LADIES' HOME JOURNAL demonstrates that some new article, hitherto unadvertised, has been added to the list of those which Due from approved are being sold under their own name and trade-mark direct to Checks and other Cash the consumer.

No article manufactured for human use is outside the possibilities of having its sales increased and its future insured by successful advertising, and no advertising that is designed to reach the home and its occupants, and that is clean, good and wholesome, can leave out of consideration THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL and realize its greatest possibilities.

Samples of columbite have been sent to The Times for identification and supposed to be "tin ore-wolframite or magnetite" by the consignees. It has more of a metallic appearance than black tournaline with a silvery play of colors when turned by the hand in suntight.

Much gadolimite resembles greenishgray ores of chromite (chrome iron ore) with small masses of mica interspersed throughout.

The plain common-sense descriptions have given are intended for the use of prespectors and in the hope that the described minerals may be found by them. Describing "pegmatite" on these lines—it is the graphic-grainite of mineralogy with consiform characters therein, resembling the writing of John Chinaman. Dr. Stephen Bowers gave the editor of this department sumples of pegmatite from near Pala.

Noiseless Peacocks.

Peacocks for the hawns of country houses are becoming more and more popular every year. There are dealers who make a specialty of these decorative birds. There is even one dealer who selis noiseless peacock, for which he gets readily $75 aplece.

The one objection to the peacock, is his hourse and piercing cry. The dealer in allent peacocks operates on the bird's throats in such a way as to quiet them forever. The operation is not painful nor perilous, and yet it increases the peacock's value fourfold. A good peacock can be bought for $15. The bird eats corn and bariey. Its actual living expenses are not great, but it is apt at any time to die. The peacock in this matter of sudden illness and death, is almost the monkey's equal.

They who keep a dozen or more peacocks have among them always a few piain little peahens. Hens sell at a lower rate than cooks, for they are not so beautiful.

How to Get Well.

Every organ of the body is directly connected with the brain by nerves. The nerve cells in the brain generate nerve force-power-and send it to the organ through these nerves, and this nerve-force gives life and action. The or-gans work perfectly when there is sufficient nerve power. Lack of nerve force weakens the action of an organ and it works imperfectly—becomes sick.
Two-thirds of all sickness is thus due to weak or deranged nerves; it is therefore advisa-ble to take Dr. Miles' Restor-ative Nervine, because it makes nerve energy.

When you cure the nerves you remove the cause, and that's the way to get well.

YOUNG MAN DROWNS IN THE SURF AT REDONDO.

Accompanied by His Roommate, He Ventures into the Sea and a Receding Wave Carries Them Be-yond Their Depth-He, Unable to m, Grapples With Companion

REDONDO, Aug. 29.—While bathing in the surf at noon today, Roy Z. Towner, a young man shout 22 years old, was drowned. Accompanied by B. Bernhard, his roommate, he donned bathing suit for a dip in the ocean. At a point 200 yards north of the plunge bath-house, the accident occurred.

It seems that Towner, who was unable to swim, was carried out over his depth by a large receding wave. His companion, who was near him, went to his rescue and made every endeavor to save him, but the drowning man frantically grappled with him, causing both to ge down together.

In the struggle they parted, and arose to the surface separately, but close together. An incoming wave again submerged them, and Bernhard was again caught by the leg this time and drawn beneath the surface. Both men were then nearly exhausted, and Bernhard, who is himself a poor swimmer, managed to break Towner's held and swim ashore.

The spectators on the beach at first thought the young men were doing a bit of play, and did not realize the tragedy that was beig enacted before their eyes until the unfortunate man taised his arms and then disappeared. HUNDREDS ARE BUSY SOLVING QUESTIONS. anche of Letters Deluges "The "Times," And Telephones are Ringing All Day. Ringing All Day.

It is perfectly surprising how many persons take an interest in The Times knowledge contest, published yesterday for the first time. Letters commenced to come in rather early in the day. And if the earliest replies should happen to be correct it will be surprising, for, while some answers are very easy, others require considerable study. If you have not sent in your answer, it is still time for you to try and win. it is still time for you to try and win.

If you have sent your reply, and you are in doubt about it being correct, you may send an additional reply; your chance is still open.

Rather be correct than in a hurry; rou will derive more satisfaction from you will derive more satisfaction from that fact that your answer is cor-rect or nearest correct among so many, than to be the earliest, and miss it. The number of letters coming to The Times, though very large, is but a small circumstance compared to the inquiries that came to the principal business houses and corporations all day. The telephones were kept busy from morning until night, persons asking questions about the knowledge contest.

There are fifteen prizes amounting to $100, to be distributed: First prize, $50 in gold; second prize, $20 in gold; third prize, $10 in gold; fourth prize, $5 in gold, and ten additional prizes of $1 each, $10.

The whole community is interested in the knowledge contest, and hundreds of persons are busy solving the questions, but that does not greatly diminish your chance of winning a prize. Remember that your chance is as good as that of anybody else, Every man, woman and child has an equal chance in the contest, except employés of The Times and members of their families BY THE AMERICAN GUILD. A special entertainment and dance by Los Angeles Chapter No. 2260, American Guild, was held last night. The programme included an address by J. G. As a beginning of a campaign to create among the members of the Pythian lodges of this city and vicinity a desire to further the .interests of that great order, an open meeting of Maration Lodge No. 182. Knights of Pythias, was held last night, at which a special programme was rendered. The object of the series of meetings of which this is but the beginning, is to enthuse the members in the work of the order and to attract to the various lodges new members from among men interested in benevolent work.

MUSIC AT VENICE.

The auction for the advance sale of choice seats, boxes and loges for the coming musical festival at Venice was held last night, with very gratifying results. The programmes are such as to attract the attention of music lovers generally, and the sale last night indicates that the attendance will be all that could be desired.

Novel Type of Boat.

Novel Type of Boat.

A French engineer, M. de Lambert, has built a novel type of boat, which glides along the surface of the water by means of five inclined planes fixed on its bottom at certain distances. When the twelve-horse-power motor engine is started the inclined planes are raised and the boat soon glides upon a mixture of air and water until, as the resistance is diminished, it is reported to attain rapidly a speed of from twenty-six to twenty-eight knots, a "speed which motor boats of eighty-horse power cannot always reach.—IChicago News.

returning from Pasacena to Los Angeles by way of the Osirich Farm and Garvanza. It had left Pessacena with wenty-six passengers on board. Ten alighted at the Osirich Farm, two more got off et Garvanza Villa. From the Villa station the southbound track lescends a elight grade. Seventy-five set south of the station the single rack becomes a double track, and at hat point there is consequently a witch. At this switch all southbound are necessarily stop, so that it can be thrown. About 100 feet south of the willed the tracks pass onto a narrow mbankment, with a drop of twenty bet or so to the wegonway on one ide and a longer but more gradual delevity to the arroyo bed on the other. I was from hurling over this fatter did of the embankment that the car was prevented by the happy combination of switch, air and nervy motor-nan.

OLD SOL DID IT.

OLD SOL DID IT. OLD SOL DID IT.

At a point thirty feet north of where the embankment begins the excessive and very unusual heat of yesterday had so expanded the 60-pound outer rail that the top of it for the distance of a foot or two at a welded joint—which happened to be the point of least resistance—and tilted up. And at this point, there was just enough curve to spell probable dieaster when the forward fiange of a southbound car should strike it, coming down grade.

Car No. 210 was "t." With Motorman C. McMillan of Pasadena, and ing them, in the same breath, a fleeting gilmpse of the arroyo beneath. Such positions are assumed by vessels beginning the descent into the trough of a high sea.

Two Hundred and Ten's rear platform was high in the air; her aisle was a toboggan silde-filled with upset, struggling people. Foot by foot the four front wheels, uselessly locked with as many brakes, sild down the steep slope, half burying themselves in the gravelly earth. McMillan, kneebraced against the motor box, turned and waved his hands in reassurance to the terrified passengers: "Stay where you are," he called: "don't try to Jump." Except for the wooden floor under his feet, he was hung away out in the middle of space. So it seemed to him as, holding 'faist with hands and knees, he looked down if to the arroyo. So, too, it looked to a woman standing force to the arroyo. So, too, it looked to

Then, when the crushed edge of the embankment was exactly under the middle of the car, with one end half way down the slope and the other end about to follow from the rails, No. 210 quietly stopped.

The forward trucks had buried themselves, overcoming the momentum. Two

The forward trucks had buried themselves, overcoming the momentum. Two feet farther in its descent, and the big car with its human freight would have lost its precarious balance and hurried own into the guich, crushing the life out of men and women, mutilating some of them almost beyond recognition, just as in the great wreck of July 4, 1990, in Tacoma, when an eighty-foot car, packed with holiday-makers, leaped from the DeLinn-street bridge, and rolled 100 feet to the lottom of a gorge, killing forty-odd persons and wounding more than seventy others, many of whom mercifully died in the hospitula soon after.

Like his courageous motorman, Conductor Moore stayed with his car, and when 210 stalled and the danger was past, he and McMillian got all the passengers out. Then, as they stood and surveyed the wreck, fear turned to amazement at the knowledge that only one of them had suffered hurts, and those of a trivial sort.

Though wrecking cars were hurried to the soot, it was after midnight—or Conductor S. W. Moore, also of Pasadena, on the platforms, No. 210 approached the switch, made the required stop, and recumed way, drifting on the down grade at perhaps six miles an hour. The forward flange struck the tilted rail—and promptly climbed. Two Hundred and Ten hesitated, shook as with a chill from platform, and jumped.

As the forward trucks took to the ties and the soft ground, McMillan jammed on the air and reversed. Thirty—twenty—fitteen feet shead of him was the beginning of the narrow embankment, and he looked through his glass window down, down into the bed of the arroya, frightfully near.

ON THE BRINK OF DEATH.

Thirty feet isn't length enough in which to stop a heavy car under such circumstances. McMillan, despite his air brake and reverse current, believed that the next five seconds would see him on his way to another world. He braced himself, and stood.

Slewing away from the track as its forward tracks ploughed the soft ground and jarred over the ties. No. 210 turned obliquely from the right of way and headed into space. The rear trucks still clung to the rails.

As the front trucks tipped over the edge of the embankment, the big cardived head first, spliling the affirighted passengers from their seats and giving the descent into the trough of one that one of 210 Jacked up on ties being the direction of the northbound track being bound either way had to be transferred around, the southbound track being bound either way had to be transferred around, the southbound track being bound either way had to be transferred around, the southbound track being bound either way had to be transferred around, the southbound track encumbered by the rear platform of No. 210 and the offention of Superintendent Row-return of the direction of the pasadena division—shirt sleeved, phraping and cheerful. wreck on the Santa Monica line that he had to jump out of the way—that was the chapter of accidents in which W. B. Alexander of Bishop & Co. participated in a few short hours last night and he escaped without injury.

Mr. Richardson, who recently came here from Texas, was in Garvanza late yesterday afternoon taking orders. He left his horse and buggy .t the curb in charge of a fifteen-year-old boy. Hardly had he left the rig before the horse took fright and started to run. The boy tried to hold the frightened animal, but it ran eight blocks and then dashed into a tree, throwing the boy clear across the sidewalk into a yard and wrecking the buggy.

Desiring to return to the city, Mr. Alexander boarded car No. 210 of the Pactific Electric Railway and started toward the city. The car had gone less than a quarter of a mile before it was wrecked, every person in it narrowly escaping a terrible fate.

TID BOOTY IN TAILOR'S.

Mrs. Rachael Hollingsworth, proprietress of the Hotel street, told the police yesterday of a chase after a pickpocket which lasted a week and in which she finally recovered all of her stolen property including $10 in money and some jewelry.

The property was found yesterday in a peculiar way. A week ago Mrs. Hollingsworth was walking along Broadway when a Japanese boy snatched her reticule and ran. The womafter the wily Jap, who dodged in and out among pedestrians and finally disappeared, while Mrs. Hollingsworth was hot on his heels.

It appears that the youth was so closely pressed that he ran into a tailor shop and hurriedly secreted the bag in a bolt of goods, the while he was exwould like to look at some patterns. When the Jap saw he by his victim he walked out after he had examined a number of pieces of goods, but he was unable to secure his booty. Yesterday a salesman in taking property intact was returned to
